Jackson Center Local Schools Presents

The Tiger Information Center

VOLUME 18/19

FEBRUARY

ISSUE IV

Greetings from Jackson Center Schools!

I hope all of you are enjoying this semi-mild winter. We are past Christmas and heading into spring which means basketball tournaments, the start of spring sports, the spring musical and solo/ensemble contests, FCCLA projects, the fields being planted, going outside for recess and of coursestate testing! The kids are doing a great job in the classroom preparing for their assigned test(s). Please help them with proper nutrition, sleep and overall good habits as testing time nears.

Winter Weather:

As you all know, "Old Man Winter" has hit us hard this year with snow, ice, wind and cold temperatures. Reminder: We will be making up a school day on Monday, February 18th (President's Day). The need for more make up days has not yet been decided, but the remaining winter days and the fog that tends to show up in the spring will play a role in that decision. Calling off school or having a delay is a decision that is never taken lightly for any of the local school districts. In cooperation with the village, the trustees and the county workers, we always start with wanting to be in school. The condition of the roads, the amount of daylight, the functionality of our busses, the number of inexperienced drivers we have and clear paths with tolerable temperatures for our walkers are all considerations that go into those decisions. I watch as many adults go to work at Airstream and Plastipak or leave the village for Honda at 5:30 in the morning regardless of the weather conditions. Somehow we have to find the balance between preparing our kids for their next step in life and doing our best to ensure their safety.

Remember:

It has been a year since we lost our dear friend, colleague and teacher, Senora Holly Tipple. The students have coped remarkably well but we still miss her love for her subject, school and students. Hasta Siempre Senora!

Middle School News

Spelling Bee 2019

Jackson Center Schools Annual Spelling Bee was held on January 18, 2019. Eighty-one students in grades 4-8 participated. After twenty-nine lively rounds, the bee was won by sixth grader, Presley Reese. The first runner-up was fifth grader, Wyatt Wentz, and the second runner-up was eighth grader Alex Enochs. Due to a prior engagement, Presley is unable to attend the Regional Spelling Bee. Wyatt, our first runner-up, will represent Jackson Center at the Regional Spelling Bee to be held on March 9, at the Knights of Columbus Hall, in Lima. Congratulations to our winners, and all students who participated in making this Bee a success!

Note from the Guidance Office

9th Grade Orientation Current 8th grade students and their parents are invited to attend 9th Grade Orientation which will be held on Monday, March 11th, at 6:30 p.m. in the cafeteria. During the session, we will be reviewing a booklet containing information for registration, scheduling, and course selection for next school year. Students will also receive a packet of information for present as well as future use throughout high school. This meeting is extremely important because the academic life of the student drastically changes upon entering their ninth grade year. We hope to see you on Monday, March 11th.

BrainFreeze Online Reading Challenge

Congratulations to Corinne York who won a Kindle! She participated in the Brain-Freeze Online Reading Challenge by logging her reading time during winter break. Schools in states around the nation participated and Corinne was one of the three lucky winners chosen. Way to go Corinne!

We CAN Do This Together!

Hope Booser, Regan Davidson, and Kennedy Jackson have been busy with their “We CAN Do This Together!” service project. They held a K-12 food drive at the beginning of the school year and collected over 800 non-perishable food items for the West Ohio Food Bank!

They also have participated in the school’s backpack program. Every month they have donated a special treat to the backpack program, such as tissues, hot cocoa, pencils, muffins, and many other fun treats.

They plan to continue with the backpack program throughout the year, and love having the opportunity to serve others!

Fine Arts Department On Sunday, January 27 the JC Arts Booster's held the first Cookie's and Canvas event. Participating students of all ages each painted an adorable snowman while having some delicious cookies and punch.

2019 Students with Disabilities Homecoming Event at Jackson Center Schools

On Friday, January 11 the Jackson Center/UVCC FCCLA hosted a homecoming dance and crowning for students of the Anna, Botkins and Jackson Center Multiple Handicapped Units. The event was put on through the collaborative efforts of many.

The Jackson Center schools' culinary classes prepared the meal with meat donations from Curly's Meat in Jackson Center, flowers for all attendees were donated by Jenny's Designs in Botkins and Village Salon in Anna styled the hair of all the girls for the occasion. Jackson Center choir students provided DJ services for the dance and the decorations were donated from the Jackson Center Student Council. The dance was complete with the crowning of the homecoming King, Seth Underwood from the Botkins unit and Mikayla Hoaglin of the Jackson Center unit.

Dancing to "Fishing in the Dark"

This dance was one of many events sponsored this year through an FCCLA service project called TGIF (Tigers Growing in Friendship), a program that has member of the chapter and student body matched up with a buddy from the multiple handicapped classrooms at Jackson Center. Monthly activities have been held since the start of the year with this homecoming being the major event for the year.

The project co-chairs are Morgan Kipker, Carleigh Ross and Kieran Yarkosky. Their chapter advisor is Mrs. Vicki Kipker.

Know! Momo and her Deadly Challenge to our Youth

In the past, Prevention Action Alliance shared information on a dangerous internet game called the Blue Whale Challenge. It involves acts of self-harm and ultimately, to win the game is to take one's own life. Another similar game is now trending throughout social media and is said to be impacting lives in multiple countries around the world – it is called the Momo Challenge. Just like the Blue Whale Challenge, there is a game administrator that lures a victim into participating in challenges that include self-harm, with the endgame being suicide.

In this challenge, the leader's name is Momo and her avatar is a scary-looking woman with dark, scraggly hair, bulging eyes and a giant, creepy smile. Momo is known to hack into users' cell phones. Those who engage with her are then sent disturbing and graphic photos, and are made to perform acts of self-harm, including suicide, or face the consequences of having their secrets and private information shared online.

Some are calling it an internet hoax, while others claim it is linked to teen deaths in their perspective countries. Currently, no teen deaths have been officially connected to this so-called "game" in the U.S. However, there is apparently enough merit to it that U.S. law enforcement agencies have begun issuing warnings for parents to talk with their children about the deadly risks of partaking in this challenge – should they be contacted by "Momo."

We spoke with suicide prevention experts Shawna Hite-Jones and Austin Lucas from the Ohio Suicide Prevention Foundation to ask about this potentially deadly game and find out what information we should be sharing with the young people in our lives on this topic.

Q. What are your thoughts on the Momo Challenge? And do you see this being a teachable moment for our youth?

A. It absolutely is a teachable moment whether we are looking at it as a hoax or not. There have been some cases linked to it (Momo Challenge), but not definitively in terms of suicide deaths. It is trending in news media as well as social media, so it is important for us to use the opportunity to have some positive conversation with the youth in our lives, whether you're a parent or you work with youth. It's not that we need to get into depth about the game and its content, but really using it as an opportunity to say to them, "If you're ever struggling or having thoughts of self-harm, know you're not the only youth that has had those thoughts. No matter the circumstance, we want you to tell us, and we want to know because there is help out there." It's about using it as an opportunity to talk about what mental health is, what self-harm is, making sure they know you really care, and letting them know that they can come to you if they are ever struggling.

Suicide is now the second leading cause of death among youth and young adults ages 12-24, second only to accidental death; and for every suicide, there are 100-200 suicide attempts. This is a vital topic we must be discussing, and revisiting regularly, with our youth.

In the tip to follow, we continue the conversation with experts from the Ohio Suicide Prevention Foundation to learn about the risk and protective factors of suicide, who may be at greater risk, and the warning signs to look out for.

In the meantime, if you feel your child is considering self-harm or experiencing suicidal thoughts, please connect with the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline at 1-800-273-8255, or go to <https://suicidepreventionlifeline.org/> for information or to chat online with a professional. The Lifeline provides 24/7, free and confidential support for people in distress, prevention and crisis resources for you or your loved ones, and best practices for professionals.

Why a father daughter dance?
Why a daddy daughter “date” is important
Read on.....

- Getting to know Dad: In most households (not all) mom is the primary caretaker. Kids are most often around mom during the day, they bypass dad to get to mom to ask her for a drink, they rely on mom to help with homework and/or get ready for bedtime. A great reason why daddy daughter dates are important is to allow and encourage daughters to get to know their dads and for dads to get to know their daughters. When daughters are alone with their dad a whole new world opens up; this includes random conversations, pure silliness, and stories about the future and the past.
- Positive role model: Another reason why daddy daughter dates are important is so that girls can see how men are suppose to act and how they are suppose to treat ladies. Even though your daughter may not be dating for a long time, it is extremely important for them to have instilled in their little brains what respect is and what to look for in a man.
- Self Esteem: Taking your daughter out of her element and the normal every day routine shows her that you’ve made time for her and that she trumped your busy schedule. This, in turn, helps boost her self esteem and shows her that you have a special place in your heart.
- Memories: One of the best reasons for why daddy daughter dates are important is because memories are being created. Someday they will reminisce and tell stories about when they had daddy daughter dates. These memories will last for a lifetime.
